FRENCH PRESS APPLAUDS THE PREMIER FOR FIRM STAND

Editors Say Conference Strengthened Poincare

LONDON VIEWS

Some Ascribe Breakdown To Balfour Note

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, August 15.—The French Press almost unanimously supports M. Poincare's attitude at the London Conference. Even anti-Government newspapers congratulate the Premier on his having affirmed that the reparations problem cannot be isolated from the inter-Governmental debts' problem. The Press generally declares that the London conference has strengthened M. Poincare's position.

The French Delegation left London this morning after M. Poincare had deposited a magnificent floral wreath in French national colors on the tomb of the "Unknown British Soldier."

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, August 15.—It is stated that Marshal Foch and General Degoutte have been summoned to Rambouillet in connection with tomorrow's cabinet meeting there.

Paris, August 15.—The newspapers accuse Mr. Lloyd George of responsibility for wrecking the London Conference and generally ascribe the breakdown to publication of the Balfour note, which did not permit Mr. Lloyd George to take steps towards a compromise.

London, August 15.—A sensational new low value record for the mark was registered early today, when, in consequence of the break-down of the London Conference, the price receded to 4,530 marks to the £, as compared with 3,370 marks. Other currencies depreciated sympathetically.

Berlin, August 15.—Germany has paid £500,900 on account of the current instalment of £2,000,000 clearing-house debts.

During the past forthnight Germany imported 128,000 tons of coal from England.

The breakdown of the London Conference produced the utmost alarm and uneasiness on the Bourse and in business circles. The weakness of the mark removes a reliable basis of calculation, rendering business difficult and perhaps impossible, while probably engendering a further increase in the cost of living.

The newspapers vigorously refute M. Poincare's assertion that Germany is stubbornly committing bankruptcy."

Berlin, August 15.—The Government has addressed a note to the British, French, Italian and Belgian Governments declaring that, owing to its foreign currency requirements for urgently needed necesaries of life and the fall in the value of the mark, it is unable to meet the clearing-house payment of £2,000,000 due today.

Bituminous Coal Strike Is Broken, To Sign New Pact

(China Press Service)

Cleveland, August 15.—The bituminous coal strike is broken. The Mine Workers' Union leaders and the operators controlling 60,000,000 tons of union output will sign an agreement tomorrow.

Governor Davis announced that a conference of the governors of five states would be held tomorrow to call off state troops now guarding the coal fields.

It is estimated that this resolution to end the strike affects 600,000 men.

The new wage scale for coal miners will be the same as was effective prior to the strike on April 1, and is to be in effect until next April.

The miners and operators have decided to choose an investigating committee to decide future disputes

(Reuter's Service)

Cleveland, August 15.—The conference between Mr. Lewis and anthracite mine-owners has been postponed to give Mr. Lewis time to negotiate a settlement of the soft coal strike, negotiations in which connection are progressing.

DOG DAYS STUFF

By Wesla

YESTERDAY, upon meeting a guy on the street whom I had not seen for some time, I asked him, after the exchange of amenities, how business was.

"Rotten," he said, "and getting worse."

This was rather a jolt. The general feeling, I thought, was that business was getting better, or at least was on the up grade. Everybody seemed as busy as usual. One saw new motor cars everywhere. All over town new buildings were going up. There were plenty of signs that business was not so bad.

And in the face of these favorable indications here came this bird with his squawk about business being "rotten."

A little later, in Squire Bingham's, I saw a chap picking out some new golf sticks, and knowing that he and the pessimist I had just left were employed by the same company I asked him how business was.

"Business!" he exclaimed. "Fine! Never better! Business is so good that I can afford a vacation. That's why I am buying these cow pasture cues."

And there you are. One man says business is rotten and another one, in the same company, says business is fine. Which one is right?

* * *

THESE TWO ginks, with their diametrically opposed opinions on the state of business, took me back fifteen years to the time when I was secretary to a member of Congress, in Washington. In those days it was the custom of the secretaries, when they weren't playing poker on one of the nice, thick mahogony tables that the government provides for the Congressmen, to sit in the visitors' gallery and listen to the Republicans kid the Democrats about the prevailing hard times, the House at the time having a Democratic majority.

One day one of the Democrats, Cushman, his name was, became weary of these Republican tirades, and rose to remind the house of some tough going that he and his neighbors had experienced out in his home town of Seattle some years before, when the Republicans were in power.

"You talk about hard times," he said, addressing the Republicans. "Say, you fellows don't know the meaning of the words. If you want to know something about real hard times you will have to go back to the last period of Republican misrule—to those unfortunate days when the misguided people of this country entrusted the administration of their government to the Republicans. Hard times? Say, listen to me and I'll tell you what happened in Seattle when the Republican, Roosevelt, was president, with a Republican House and a Republican Senate to put the stamp of their approval on his maladministration of this country's affairs.

"Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker, in those days, would you believe it, the time came when there wasn't a mouthful of food in the whole city of Seattle, not a crust, not a crumb, not a morsel with which the famished and emaciated citizens of that great metropolis of the Northwest could appease their ravenous hunger.

"So what did the people do? Sir, they did the only thing that was left for them to do, and that was, to go down to the seashore and eat the clams which our Heavenly Father, in his infinite wisdom, had provided for them against the calamity of a Republican administration.

"Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker (here the oratorical Cushman shook his fists in the faces of the Republicans) the people of Seattle ate clams—and ate clams—and ate clams—until, sir, their very stomachs rose and fell with the tides of the sea."

Council Asks Waterworks To State Terms Of Sale Pending Voters' Approval

Submits Time Can Be Saved If Negotiations Are Begun While Awaiting Ratepayers' Meeting

Following upon the unanimous approval of the special Waterworks Committee of the principle of Municipal ownership of the local water supply, the Municipal Council has called upon the Waterworks Company to enter into negotiations immediately, with a view to formal exercise of the powers of purchase if and as soon as the ratepayers so decide.

The request to the company for submission of a detailed statement of the price, with particulars as to commitments, intended extensions, etc., is contained in a letter addressed to the Waterworks Company by the secretary and commissioner general of the Council under date of August 10 and published in today's Municipal Gazette.

MUST AWAIT MEETING

The letter points out that the Council is precluded from taking any formal action in the matter of purchase under the provisions of the Waterworks Agreement of 1905 until the report of the Special Committee has been received and laid before the ratepayers. This, the Council holds, will necessarily involve waiting at least two months, since it would be useless to attempt to call a special meeting of ratepayers before October. Thus, it is contended, valuable time may be saved by an immediate taking up of the necessary preliminary negotiations. On receipt of the statement and particulars requested the Council will give the matter its closest attention, in the hope of reaching a tentative agreement as to the price to be paid in the event of purchase.

Lengthy previous correspondence between the company and the Council is also published in today's Gazette, together with the draft of a new waterworks agreement which was submitted by the Company on June 4. The company at that time asked for an early decision upon the matter of purchase, owing to the fact that while things hung fire the company was prejudiced in inviting further needed subscriptions.

LETTER GIVES FIGURES

Mr. F. B. Pitcairn, engineer-in-chief and manager of the Shanghai Waterworks Co., Ltd., in his letter gave figures on water consumption, capital employed, operation cost, extensions and meter installations, and suggested meter scales.

The estimated quantity of water to be pumped in 1922, Mr. Pitcairn gave as 9,257,000,000 gallons, while the figure for 1927 was placed at 12,597,000,000 gallons. To provide this increased quantity provision had been made, the letter states, in the estimates of capital expenditure for three main pumping engines, with necessary boilers, houses etc., and provision was also to be made for main extensions, the raising of the Kiangse Road tower, replacing of small mains with larger ones and the installation of meters which, during the next three years would cost Tls. 584,000.

EXPENSES CITED

The letter stated that the capital employed on supply of water under the company's agreement with the Council amounted on December 31, 1921 to Tls. 7,052,400. The estimated capital that would be employed on December 31, 1922 was placed at Tls. 8,312,000, increasing to Tls. 11,052,300 in 1924 and standing at Tls. 13,624,700 at the end of 1927. The total working expenses, including depreciation of wasting assets and interest on the average of the capital employed is given as Tls. 1,990,600 for the period from July 1, 1922 to June 30, 1923, while the sum estimated for the year to end of June 30, 1927 was set at Tls. 3,218,000.

The reply of the Council points out that in view of the decision of the Special Committee no useful purpose would be gained by answering in detail the matters dealt with in Mr. Pitcairn's letter and in the draft of the suggested new agreement, but the Council comments that these introduce many new points of material importance.

BOYD PLACED ON TRIAL ON FRAUD CHARGE

Alleged To Have Obtained Tls. 30,000 By False Pretenses

Hearing of the charges against Ralph S. Boyd, president of R. S. Boyd and Co., Ltd., was opened in the United States Court for China before Judge Charles S. Lobingier yesterday. U. S. District Attorney Leonard G. Husar conducted the prosecution and Attorney R. S. Haskell appeared to represent Boyd.

On application of District Attorney Husar, the original charge against Boyd of embezzling Taels 30,000 from the Provincial Mint of Hunan was withdrawn. A new information, charging Boyd with obtaining Taels 30,000 from the Provincial Mint of Hunan by false pretenses was filed and trial was opened. Attorney Haskell objected to the withdrawal of the old charge and the filing of the new, declaring that his client had been kept in jail here for forty-five days, and that it was unfair to him to substitute a new charge now. The court, however, overruled Mr. Haskell.

The specific charge against Boyd is that as head of R. S. Boyd and Company, Ltd., he obtained the Taels 30,000 from Chang Yi-peng, director of the Provincial Mint of Hunan, by representing that he had in a godown at Shanghai 20,000 piculs of copper ingot, on which he could make immediate delivery to the mint, whereas he had no copper ingots at all, aside from the sample which he showed.

TELLS OF PAYMENT

Yesterday's session of the trial was taken up with the direct examination of Mr. Chang, who told in some detail of his meeting Boyd here and of the agreement into which they entered for the purchase of the copper ingots. He was introduced to Boyd, he said, in February by another Chinese whom he had informed that he wished to buy copper for the mint. An agreement was signed for the purchase of the ingots and on February 17th he paid to Boyd at his office Tls. 30,000. The agreement was that the first shipment of 5,000 piculs of the ingots were to be delivered at Changsha by February 22, and the remainder in shipments of 5,000 piculs every ten days.

On February 18, the witness (Chang) saw Boyd at his office, and told him to hurry the shipments. On February 21, he saw Boyd again, and told him, "I must leave; I am leaving tonight by train for Nanking, then by boat for Hankow and later I am going to Changsha. You must ship the copper immediately." He had given Boyd a permit to ship the copper over the railroads, signing the permit himself under authority specially granted to him.

RECEIVES TELEGRAM

When he arrived at Hankow, he received a telegram signed by Boyd stating that he had already shipped the copper, but he never received any copper from Boyd. After going to Changsha, he returned to Shanghai, saw Boyd, and endeavored to obtain the return of the mint's money, but it was never returned.

As exhibits, the prosecution introduced copies of the agreement signed by Boyd and Chang in both English and Chinese. Some difficulty arose over the acceptance of the English version as an accurate translation of the Chinese, however, and the defense objected to its introduction as such. Mr. Walter Chen, who acted as interpreter, was called to the stand, but declined to venture a literal translation of the Chinese document, although he testified that the English version was an accurate translation.

At the conclusion of the direct examination of Mr. Chang, an adjournment was taken until Friday morning.

STAR COMPANY RICSHA FOREMEN VOICE PROTEST

Demand Prosecutions In Mixed Court Be Abandoned

New demands, which may lead to a recurrence of the recent ricsha strike, have been formulated by the foremen employed by the Star Ricsha Company. They ask that the men now held for trial before the Spanish Assessor in the Mixed Court on a charge of inciting the last strike be released at once, that the cost of repairing damaged ricshas be reduced, and that a printed list of the cost of repairs be furnished.

The alleged overcharges for repairs made by the company led to the recent dissatisfaction. The coolies, in striking, claimed that the company forced them to have repairs made at the company's shops, where, it was said, excessive prices were charged.

Troops Hold Stream Between Ichang And Chungking

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 16.—Foreign official telegrams from Ichang report that the 1st and 3rd Szechuan armies operating from Chengtu have occupied Wanhsien and Chungking. An attack was first made on Wanhsien. When that city fell Chungking was evacuated. The defence of Wanhsien was weak and the casualties not heavy. The 2nd Army is reported to be retreating down river while stragglers are firing heavily on steamers, including one Japanese boat, the Choten Unyo, the chief engineer of which was wounded by a rifle bullet. Trade between Ichang and Chungking is completely at a standstill. The telegraphs have been interrupted since August 10.

According to other reports General Wu Pei-fu is now on friendly terms with General Lu Hsiang, the Commander-in-Chief of Szechuen, and is arranging to send a force from Ichang to cut off the retreating insurgents.

SEAMEN DEBATE COMPANY OFFER TO END STRIKE

China Merchants Balks At Demand For Back Pay

Efforts to bring to an end the strike of seamen which has tied up the fleet of the China Merchants Steam Navigation Company for the past twelve days had proved unfruitful up to late hour last night, despite the offer of the company to agree to the advanced scale of wages demanded by the union as of July 1st.

While officials of the union were considering the offer, some doubt as to whether it would be accepted was expressed by them. Their original demand was that the wage scale be made retroactive to January 1st. This contention was based on the fact that the company was a signatory to the Hongkong agreement, which provided that the advanced scale was to be paid as from the first of the year.

The offer of the company to bring about a settlement of the strike was made in a letter to the men. In this letter, it was stated that the advanced scale would be paid as of July 1st, and the men were asked to return to their ships within a week.

PRESIDENT LI ASKS DR. SUN TO VISIT PEKING IMMEDIATELY

Southern Leader Receives Autographed Invitation

HE MAY ACCEPT

Koumingtang Head Is Preparing Statement For Powers

While complete secrecy is being maintained in connection with the conferences Dr. Sun Yat-sen is holding with national leaders from the North it was said yesterday by those in close touch with Doctor Sun that 'things are progressing favorably', that Kuomingtang leaders are wholly optimistic, and it was disclosed in particular that Doctor Sun after an absence of ten years shortly may go to Peking. It is known definitely now that virtually every important faction and political element in China is interested in the discussions going forward here.

One of the noteworthy developments of the day was the arrival from Peking yesterday morning of three personal representatives of President Li Yuan-hung. They were received yesterday afternoon by Doctor Sun at his home on Rue Moliere and presented to him an autograph letter from President Li.

The text of this letter was not made public, but Doctor Sun let it be known that it contained an invitation to him to come to the Capital to attend a conference there with President Li. It is reported that after presenting the letter the three representatives of President Li presented certain important proposals to Doctor Sun and strongly urged him to accept the invitation.

This invitation directly from the President supplements and follows other invitations that it is known have been extended to Doctor Sun asking him to shift the scene of the present discussions to the Capital. While Doctor Sun has given no indication of what he intends to do, views he has expressed carry the indication that he is prepared to venture into Peking on certain conditions.

The nature of those conditions are known only to those with whom he has been in conference, but it is accepted that they have to do directly with statements made in the manifesto that was issued yesterday.

An observer who is not personally identified with the situation, but who possesses an intimate knowledge of policies and events taking form presented the view yesterday that if Peking now accepts the old parliament, thus accepting the contentions of the Constitutionalists and the stand taken by Doctor Sun in his manifesto, then it repudiates Li Yuan-hung and Doctor Sun therefore is the only lawful President of China at this time.

On the entire subject of the presidency Doctor Sun is remaining silent taking the position set forth in his manifesto that before subjects of this nature and acts of parliament may be given any consideration the question of what the parliament itself is must definitely be determined. As the manifesto sets forth Doctor Sun says when parliament again is functioning free from dictation or influence of external factors the aims of the Constitutionalists shall have been achieved.

Following upon the manifesto of yesterday it was announced that Doctor Sun is preparing a statement that shortly is to be addressed to the foreign powers. It is believed that this will be published in the course of the next week and preceding it a statement in English amplifying statement of the manifesto also will be published.

New Angles Presented On Vice Situation Here

Further Correspondence Between Municipal Council And Moral Welfare League Published

New angles of the general question of the suppression of vice in the International Settlement are presented in further correspondence between the Moral Welfare League and the Municipal Council, published in today's issue of the Municipal Gazette.

In its latest communication to the Council, addressed over the signature of Mr. Frank Rawlinson, honorary secretary of the Moral Welfare League, the organisation takes issue with contentions that were advanced by the Council anent the general question of the suppression of brothels.

A subsequent letter that followed the latest exchange of communications asks the Council's permission to give full publicity to the correspondence and this is granted in a reply from the Council.

LETTER FROM LEAGUE

Mr. Rawlinson's latest letter on the subject follows:

"I am directed to express appreciation of your letter of June 16 on the subject of brothels and prostitution in the International Settlement and to present to you certain other matters arising therefrom.

"Your letter states that the view of the Moral Welfare League (that a more effective suppression of public prostitution is possible) can only be attributed to its refusal 'to face the real facts of the case.' We beg to draw your attention to the fact that the 'real facts of the case' were fully faced by the Vice Commission appointed by you at the express desire of the ratepayers. Only one-third of the members of that Commission belonged to the Moral Welfare League. It was a body thoroughly representative of the residents of the International Settlement.

"A large proportion of the facts then considered came from the officials of the Council. On the basis of the facts presented, the Vice Commission unanimously recommended that the right policy for the Council to adopt is one of elimination of the brothel from the International Settlement and stated that this could be gradually attained through use of the powers in existence viz., Bye-law 34. They were informed by the Council's officials that this could be done. It was therefore recommended 'that brothels be licensed with a view to elimination.' This recommendation was the result of a year's study of the 'real facts.' The Moral Welfare League stands, therefore, for a course of action based on a study of the 'real facts.'

"Since the Council's letter admits that prostitution is being carried on by former inmates of licensed brothels, the question still seems pertinent as to why more active suppression of the same is not possible.

"The statement by the Council that 'brothel keeping, if not under license, is an offence under a Municipal Bye-law, as distinguished from prostitution, which is no offence' has, of course, a direct bearing on the subject. Some confusion exists in the public mind as to the exact distinction between 'brothel-keeping' and 'prostitution!' Neither of these terms is defined in the Council's correspondence. This confusion, arising from lack of definitions, should be cleared up. We beg, therefore, to repeat our former request that the Council will give us its definition of a brothel.

"In connection with the cases recently before the Mixed Court, the public prosecutor defined a brothel as 'A place where people of both sexes resort for purposes of prostitution' Now leaving out of consideration for the time being the point whether under that definition one woman practising prostitution alone can be convicted for keeping a brothel, we beg ask, 'Does the Council admit the definition quoted by the public prosecutor to be a sufficient definition?' It was apparently sufficient for the Mixed Court to face conviction of recent cases concerned thereon.

"We furthermore do not understand what the Council means by 'prostitution' in the legal sense, and would like to have the Council's definition therefore. We note that 'All sexual intercourse is unlawful' where no valid marriage exist.' (Vide page 20, 'A Manual of Vigilance Law,'" published by The National Vigilance Association, London). The keeping of an unlicensed brothel in the International Settlement, is under present conditions, clearly illegal. It appears evident that two women practising prostitution together could be convicted of keeping a brothel

"Now aggressive action in accordance with the Vice Commission's report, against all unlicensed brothel having two or more women therein, would result in considerable suppression of commercialised vice. For the securing of such suppression there are, it has been proved, sufficient legal powers existing in the International Settlement.

"Your letter of April 4, 1922, states 'the former occupants (of licensed brothels) continue a life of prostitution in private houses, when they are in no sense subject to police control.' We beg to point out that the legal situation is not affected by the fact that the 'brothel' concerned is in a house not formerly licensed as such.

"The Council does not claim, and rightly so, that segregation in itself affords an increased measure of police control, yet apparently the Council is of the opinion that such control is facilitated when the object of control is concentrated in a particular locality or localities. In your letter of April 4, 1922, effective police control of a brothel is said to be 'ability to enforce license conditions and that alone.' Now the most notorious foreign brothels have been concentrated in the sense referred to by the Council and most of them have been licensed. If such concentration and license conditions facilitate police control of brothels, we beg respectfully to ask, 'Why has it been impossible to specifically enforce Condition VII of the brothel license which requires: "That no intoxicating liquor be sold in or upon any part of the brothel?' It is well known and has been proved conclusively, that the illegal sale of alcoholic liquors in foreign brothels constitutes a very important part of the business. Such sale of liquor is illegal from any viewpoint, no license of any kind being held or obtainable for that purpose. Now if through concentration of brothels in a locality and particular license conditions, police control could be made effective, these particular foreign brothels could not continue business.

"We again therefore beg to ask wherein 'effective police control' so frequently referred to, consists, except in the legal power, proved to exist in the recent Mixed Court decisions, to secure the closing down of such places?

"If a more rigorous policy of suppressing unlicensed brothels involves administrative difficulties of any kind, I am directed to say that the Moral Welfare League stands ready to render such assistance as it can give.

"We would again respectfully point out that the only way the recommendations of the Vice-Commission can be made effective is by constant and rigorous efforts on the part of the authorities to carry out the publicly accepted policy of elimination of unlicensed brothels. The police being cognisant of the continued activity of the former inmates of brothels which have closed seems to us to place on them the responsibility of aggressive action to apply the law.

"We are replying to your letter direct rather than discussing the matter with the police, since we are discussing a report published by the Municipal Council. The police have shown us every consideration and courtesy, and will I am sure, continue to do so. But all authority concerned ultimately rests with the Council."

The reply given to the foregoing letter forwarded by Mr. J. M. McKee, Assistant Secretary of the Council is as follows:

"I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your further letter of July 22, on the subject of brothels and prostitution in the Settlement, and, in reply, to state that the correspondence on this subject has now reached a stage when, in the members' opinion, its further protraction can serve no useful purpose.

"At the same time, I am to state that, if, in this connection, the Moral Welfare League desire to prosecute further inquiries, the most satisfactory course, in the Council's opinion, would be for your Committee to meet and discuss the matter with the Commissioner of Police, who, upon request, will be pleased to arrange the necessary appointment."

U. S. AND FILIPINO VETERANS GATHER FOR ANNIVERSARY

(China Press Service)

Manila, Aug. 13.—American and Filipino veterans of the Spanish-American war and Filipino insurrection in the Philippines joined today in celebrating the twenty-fourth anniversary of the occupation of Manila.

General Aguinaldo, leader of the Filipino insurgents was given three cheers and a tiger and warmly applauded when he rose to address the meeting. General Aguinaldo spoke of the campaign and the warm relations that have sprung up between the two peoples since then as follows:

"It is the one regret of my life that I was unable to accept the kind invitation of the Spanish-American War Veterans to attend the national convention at Los Angeles. I had great hopes that in a visit to the United States I would become so saturated with the great democratic principles of the United States that I could bring such sentiments back to the Philippines. Nevertheless we still enjoy the fruits of democracy in the Philippines.

"The more invitations I receive from America the more I feel gratified and contented in the knowledge that extremely cordial relations exist between we who were once enemies. The friendship that exists between Americans and Filipinos today will last as long as it is cordial because the greatest friendship is that engendered through the sacrifices of men being melted by mutual joys and sorrows."

General Aguinaldo's speech was tumultuously applauded.

Less than fifty veterans of Merritt's 10,000 that invaded Manila remain in the Philippines, the meeting discovered. One veteran in attendance wore a heavy blue woolen shirt like those worn by the Americans soldiers of that day despite the heat.

Henry D. Woolfe, 73 years old and almost blind, a newspaperman who was Secretary to General Merritt's board of military information, acted as chairman and spoke briefly of the campaign.

Col. Gordon Johnston, aide to Governor-General Wood represented the General in drafting the following resolution which was forwarded to the convention of Spanish-American War Veterans in Los Angeles:

"Occupation day convention sends greetings and wishes for best success of your convention. Don't forget your comrades who have stayed on the job in the West. On behalf of the children of comrades we bespeak the support of the veterans for the American Guardian Association which gives aid to those in need."

HOW TO "GROW" A NEW COMPLEXION

These are the days of "hustling" in a week we see and do more than our grandmothers did in a year. We are gradually turning nature to be our servant; we use her great forces against herself. We have conquered sea and sky, now our doctors are fighting not only disease, but old age. There is talk of rejuvenating human beings by the injection of animal glands, but as yet, only the few can avail themselves of the treatment.

There is, however, one secret of perpetual youth that is in the reach of everyone. Scientists now realise that the only way of keeping the skin young and fresh is to examine Nature's methods and to find some way of imitating her.

SCIENTIFIC BEAUTY.

In order to explain the new method of keeping the complexion perpetually youthful, one must understand something of the nature of the skin. A baby's skin is always clear and smooth because the outer layer is always invisibly peeling off, and new layers are forming just as fast underneath, so that the exposed skin is always fresh, unwrinkled and "new."

For the first few years of our lives this peeling is a purely natural process, but as we grow older, we gradually lose the power of throwing off our old soiled outer skins, so that our complexions become lined and yellow, and the new skin has no chance to show itself.

A few years ago, a scientific chemist realised that a little-known substance called mercolised wax, was exactly what was needed to "keep nature up to the mark." It appears that this substance, which is now universally obtainable, gently and painlessly assists nature in throwing off the soiled outer cuticle. The result is thus perpetually renewed, and a clear youthful complexion can be preserved to any age. (Advt.)

PARLIAMENT IN SESSION AGAIN, BIG ISSUES UP

Question Of Balance Of Power Worries Constitution Makers

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 16.—Parliament will meet this afternoon. The chief business will be the election of the Vice-Chairman of the House of Representatives for which Mr. Chu Fu-chen is considered the most likely candidate.

Peking, August 16.—The Parliamentary Constitution Drafting Committee met yesterday. A majority of the members favored a certain degree of decentralisation of administrative power while not proposing to carry this as far as provincial autonomy. The question of the balance of power between the Central and Provincial Governments was allowed to stand over for discussion later, also the manner in which administrative offices in the provinces should be filled. The Committee meets again tomorrow.

Peking, August 16.—There were 240 members present this afternoon at the meeting of the House of Representatives. This number did not constitute a quorum. The Senate is sitting but the agenda is not important.

General Feng's Son Not Stolen By Bandits

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 16.—Reuter's correspondent at Kaifeng, writing on August 14, says that General Feng Yu-hsiang returned to Kaifeng on August 13 after a fortnight in Kweitch, where he personally conducted bandit suppression and also measures to prevent the cholera which is prevalent there. There is no truth in the rumors that General Feng Yu-hsiang's son had been captured by bandits or that General Feng Yu-hsiang himself was wounded.

Troops Guarding Chinese Eastern Ry. In Mutiny, Report

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 16.—A foreign despatch from Harbin says that 1,500 troops guarding the Chinese Eastern Railway mutinied at an unnamed station, killing their commandant and sacking the station and village, after which they proceeded to another station, where they cut the telegraph line, subsequently retiring to the hills. As the troops do not possess money or food, further trouble is expected.

Bandit activities are reported from southern Chihli where they are assembling from across the Shantung border.

Harbin, August 16.—It is officially reported by direct wire from Pogranitchnaia that a passenger train which left Harbin on August 13 was attacked at dawn by a gang of fifty Russians eight kilometers from Pogranitchnaia on the Chinese side. The Japanese guard in the mail-car attempted to make a defence but were fired on by machine-guns. One was killed and all wounded. One passenger was seriously wounded.

Shansi Governor Has New Plan For Towns

Inaugurates Self Government With Ten Prohibited Means Of Livelihood

(China Press Correspondence)

Pingtingchow, Aug. 10—General Yen Hsi-shan, governor of Shansi, has worked out a very interesting plan whereby he hopes to make the villages of the province the unit in government. The villages in Shansi even before this have been rather models in their village government but the plan the governor has now is a big step forward.

For the purpose of getting this self-government established, he has picked out thirteen of the most important hsiens in the province, to which he expects to go in person and help the villagers get started.

Each village is to have a Reform Bureau, which is to carry out the reforms that the province has been trying to put into effect. The ten reforms that are insisted upon by the province are the prohibition of the traffic in narcotic drugs; of the use of narcotics; of prostitution; of gambling; of thieving; of quarreling and fighting between the families and clans in the village; of idleness; of cruelty in the home; of disobedience of children to parents; and of children staying out of schools without satisfactory reasons.

HAVE OWN CONSTITUTION

Each village is to have its own constitution. The constitution and rules for self-government must be passed upon by the village. Then they are to be reported to the county magistrate and he sends them on to the governor. The governor has suggested a number of sections of these by-laws, most of which cover his reform measures. In addition to these, there is one rule preventing the destruction of these.

Another one makes the stirring up of quarrels between villagers with the idea of starting a lawsuit a serious offense. This is something that is very common in the villages in China and if this rule can be put into force, it will be a great blessing to the people. Foot-binding is also forbidden by law.

The pasturing of animals in the fields and allowing the herded animals to cross the fields are also forbidden. To these rules the villagers are to add what rules they want and need for the proper regulation of village life and affairs.

Each village will have a village court which will have power to settle all disputes in the village. The judge of this court is to be elected by the people of the village and he shall be the village chief. The present village elder shall be this judge for the first year or two, after which the people are to hold a special election to elect the judge of the village, who will be ex officio chief of the village.

STIR UP ENMITY

Under the present system law suits are very expensive and accomplish little excepting to stir up enmity between families which lasts down through generations. The governor thinks that with this method of settling disputes in the village and keeping outside people from interfering, there will be less clan disputes and enmities in the villages.

The chief of the village has the right to recruit villagers to serve as policemen. These policemen are to preserve order and peace in the village. Along with the duties of the village police are stated duties of the people themselves. Everybody ought to be prepared for self-defense, by having drills in boxing, and so on. All the good people in the village should combine together to make a strong body to combat evil. The able-bodied men in the village should volunteer for service in the militia. Governor Yen's plan for the militia is that the young men should come out to the camps established around through the province, study military tactics and drill for three months, and at the end of this time they are to return home again and go about their regular occupation. These men, of course, will be a great asset to the village police in time of need and in drilling the villagers in methods of self-defense.

There will be an inspection of the villages in the hsien after they had time to put in force these new rules. They have worked out a system of grading which will show the provincial officials just how well the villages are carrying out the governor's program. The villages that are more than 60 percent effective in enforcing the rules and reforms will be considered satisfactory, but those which are graded under 60 percent will be reprimanded and later punished in case no improvement is made.

U. S. Court Orders Two Vagrants Held

Two Americans, charged with vagrancy, pleaded guilty before Judge Charles S. Lobingier in the United States Court for China. Both men were ordered held in custody for ten days, and the Vice-Consul for Shipping was instructed to try to get them out of Shanghai on the first available ship.

One of the men, Cecil Sulley, said that he had become an opium addict since coming to China. He had been employed in the Chinese Maritime Customs. He could not break himself of the drug habit and had therefore gone to the United States Marshal and asked to be locked up. The second, Lloyd S. Lampman, said that he had missed his ship here and could not get another out.

Hannigs Appeal In U. S. Court

The appeal of Mr. Charles Hannigs, proprietor of the Point Hotel, from the decision of the U. S. Consular Court at Tientsin sentencing him to 45 days in jail for assaulting a Chinese boy, will be heard by Judge Charles S. Lobingier in the U. S. Court for China today. At the time Mr. Hannigs was sentenced at Tientsin, he was given the alternative of leaving China. He left but returned to Shanghai and was arrested here on warrants from Tientsin. Later, he was released on bail, after his counsel, Mr. R. S. Haskell, had filed habeas corpus proceedings.

REUTER EXPLAINS

The following message from our Tokio correspondent, published on August 14, should have been issued with the explanation that it was given out by the Japanese Government:

"Until China has established a unified Government representing the will of the people, Japan considers it inappropriate and premature to give financial aid to China, which if done, would not only violate the principles of foreign policy already down in the purposes of the Washington Nine-Power Treaty, but would hinder tendencies in China towards better conditions and real unification."

The Woman of Thirty

Often in Need of Help.

At thirty a woman may reasonably expect to enjoy good health, having then overcome the troubles of early womanhood, yet being free of the later trials of middle-age; but various causes tend to undermine the strength of many women of thirty.

Foremost among these causes are the cares of motherhood and household worries, which have a depressing effect on a woman's regular health and nervous system; then, again, women in business will often be similarly afflicted for overwork, business anxieties, hurried meals, too little rest and lack of sufficient out-door recreation thin the blood and give rise to much suffering. Among the prominent symptoms of thin blood are headache, backache, weakness in the limbs and poor appetite. Still, keenest the distress may be, a little help is usually all the system needs.

All run-down conditions call for richer, better blood; good blood is red blood, and on this a woman's health depends. The best of good, red blood is created by Dr. Williams' pink pills, and this is why these pills enjoy their reputation among women. They are the tonic best adapted for women's needs, so if you suffer, avail yourself today of the health-help of Dr. Williams' pink pills for pale people. Obtain them of any dealer, or direct from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai, price $1.50 per bottle, $8 for 6 bottles post free.

Many Attending Japanese Y.M.C.A. Lecture Course

It is noteworthy that during the hot month of August, the Japanese Y.M.C.A. of Shanghai is conducting with success three university extension courses of lectures. The lectures are given five evenings each week, and two hours each evening for a period of three weeks.

The lecturers this year are prominent university professors of Japan. Dr. T. S. Sato, professor of applied chemistry of the Imperial University of Sendai, is lecturing on science. He is the inventor of non-inflammable celluloid. Professor S. Katakami of Waseda University has as his subject "Russian Literature before and after the Revolution." Dr. T. Fukuda, professor of Tokio Commercial University, and a distinguished author on economics, takes as his subject "Recent social problems as viewed from the standpoint of economics."

These lectures will be closed this week. They are held at the Japanese Public School, North Szechuen Road. That they are being appreciated is shown by the fact that although a charge of $5.00 for the course is made there has been an attendance of about 450 each evening. Before they return to Japan, the Y.M.C.A. has arranged for these lecturers to give courses in Hankow, Peking and Tsingtau.

Chinese Admitted To Practice In American Court

Mr. Joseph Tat Kong Liu, a native of Honolulu and a graduate of New York University Law School, was admitted to practice in the United States Court for China yesterday by Judge Charles S. Lobingier. Mr. Liu is now residing in Shanghai, having recently been an instructor in the Soochow University Comparative School of Law. He is to leave soon for Swatow, however, and it is believed that he will take up practice in the South.

Mr. Liu was introduced to the Court by Dr. H. C. Mei. Following the taking of the oath, Judge Lobingier welcomed him to practice as an American citizen. As an American citizen of Chinese descent in China, the court said, he was faced with double standards, and he must remember that despite his ancestry and environment, he was an American, with his first duty to see to it that the glorious traditions of America and Americans are upheld.

Notes Of Shanghai Commercial Museum

The Commercial Museum has arranged with the Philadelphia Commercial Museum to replace the Chinese exhibits there, which are too old and to represent China with new products. Suitable exhibits are being collected to exchange the old ones.

It has been planned by the Commercial Museum to hold an exposition once a year. Last year a national exposition was held before the opening of the museum. This year a national silk exposition will be held in October in preparation for the International Silk Exposition to be held at New York in the spring of 1923. The exhibits will be shipped to New York to form part of the Chinese section in the forthcoming exposition.

A sales department will soon be established. Patrons are welcomed and fine Chinese goods at reasonable prices are offered. In the near future a trade bureau is expected to be formed in order to foster the development of foreign markets for the Chinese products.

The Commercial Museum, which is situated on the North Honan Road next to the Temple of Heaven (Tien Fei Kung), is opened to the public on all days except Mondays. It is opened between the hours of 9 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Owing to the hot weather the hours have been changed as from 3 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. until August 22.

Catholic Bishop At Swatow Tells Of Typhoon Losses

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Hongkong, August 16.—A letter from the Catholic Bishop of Swatow states that at Gouaoa out of more than 20,000 inhabitants only half survived the typhoon. At Chichiu 3,000 persons were drowned and at Haiki three Catholic families of the village are the only survivors of 3,000 inhabitants. One missionary in the interior writes that it is impossible to count the dead. In the Tinghai, Niaoping, Chaoyang and Kityeung sub-prefectures out of more than 100 churches, chapels and missionary residences, twelve were destroyed and the others more or less damaged. The Committee of the English Club has placed the bowling-alley at the Bishop's disposal for church services.

University's Head Wants Old Barracks

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, Aug. 10.—Chancellor Tsai Yuan-pei of the Government University has petitioned the Central Government requesting that the old barracks, both ground and buildings at Hsi Yuan be turned over to the University. They are now working in cramped quarters with absolutely no chance of expanding and something must be done. The spot asked for at Hsi Yuan was occupied by the Fengtien troops and since their departure has been empty. Chancellor Tsai claims that it is quite suitable for his purposes.

Some years ago the Board of Education granted the National University a piece of ground outside of the north gate. The buildings were erected and nearly ready for the University to take them over, when they were suddenly seized and converted into a military academy. Consequently Chancellor Tsai feels that this is a chance for the Government to make amends.

Manchuria Bought $24,000,000 Worth Of Textiles In 1921

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, Aug. 10.—Manchuria imported textile goods in 1921 in the sum of $24,000,000. Of this amount, $11,500,000 came through Antung while Dairen handled only $7,200,000. The balance came in through Newchwang and other smaller customs districts to the north.

These figures are somewhat perplexing unless explained, since Dairen is by far the largest and most important customs port in Manchuria and was so much behind Antung in the value of the textile brought in. The explanation lies in the agreement made by the Japanese and Chinese in 1913. By that document a special reduction was allowed on the duty levied on all goods coming into Manchuria by way of Korea. Article One of that Agreement provides for a payment of two thirds of the customs duty rate on goods imported into Manchuria through Korea by rail via Antung.

With an effective five percent tariff, taking the figures for 1921 as a basis, it is estimated that this preferential rate will give the Japanese importers a saving of some $191,700. At this time of heavy competition that is a decided advantage to them.

Monarchist Coup Fails In Austria

French Wireless through Reuter

Paris, August 15.—Kune Hoynigg, chief of the monarchist party in Austria, was arrested at Vienna on a charge of preparing a monarchist conspiracy, the execution of which, it was alleged, had been fixed for Tuesday or Wednesday, when the public edifices were to be occupied by monarchist partisans and the chiefs of the republican authorities interned. Hoynigg was subsequently released.

SAYS 'BUGS' Baer:

GINK FOWLER NEVER CHEATED

He Knew That If A Toadstool Wasn't A Mushroom It Was A Toadstool

BY 'BUGS' BAER

Dear people:

Get this right. I chirp straight from the crooked tongue. Do you remember when Bermuda Mike and The Glutt broke up the Roughtown ball game by shooting dice with live, six-spotted leopards?

They were tough students. That's the reason they used unmuzzled leopards for dice. When both leopards rolled over on their backs they counted for sevens.

Both criminals were winning until a hot tamer from Hagenback's horned in. He pulled his elbow as far as the Chicago World Fair in order to snap his fingers.

Then the mob discovered he was ringing in a trained giraffe on them. The lion tamer was winning 80/1 when the gang spotted the stiff legged dice and the panic bloomed again.

The stampeede opened and closed like a blizzard of flying camp chairs.

Gink looped away on an exploring tour so fast that Conan Doyle's spirits had to move over to make room for him.

Yours until Gink stops drilling with paper soldiers.

Gus Whoo?
Thatswhere, U. S. A.

We remember the dotted leps But Gink easily broke up that game by palming a loaded necktie on them. He had seven polka dots on his Xmas tie and threw more naturals in a minute that there are soap bubbles on Monday morning.

Gink couldn't sleep that night He just tossed and tossed and tossed. He started to toss at 11 p.m. and quit at 7 a.m. That was a natural day's work with him.

Finally one of the mob got hep and they started to lay Gink like a cornerstone. When they got through with him, he was wearing so many crutches he looked like a centipede with rubber heels.

The Glutt was Gink's most steaming enemy, but even the Glutt had to stop cheating in admiration of Gink's handling of the speckled cubes.

They paid off in paper, and for fifteen years Gink thought the only letters in the alphabet were I. O. U. When he tried to cash the manuscript in the bank, the bank cat threw nine simultaneous fits in nine different rooms. The president of the bank's debits had a false set of teeth made of police whistles.

The cashier dashed out to lunch off century plants, and all the clerks organised Eskimo pie hunting expeditions. After that a check meant measles to Gink and he umpired on a cash basis.

Roughtown had a big lead on one team in their eight-town circuit, and the town started out to buy them uniforms. The team dressed any way they wanted to, but the rules stated they must have red flannel tips on their shoelaces.

Gink was the first umpire to use a soup strainer for a mask.

DAVE ROSENBERG NEW CHAMPION OF MIDDLE WEIGHTS

New York, N. Y. August 15.—Dave Rosenberg of Brooklyn is now the middleweight champion of the world. Rosenberg defeated Harrison in fifteen rounds at Jersey City last Saturday night and Rosenberg immediately challenged Johnny Wilson, the New England Italian who holds the world's title.

A purse was immediately put up and Wilson demanded more money. The New York State Boxing Commission decreed that Wilson must defend his title or he would lose his crown. Wilson held out for more money, refused to scrap Rosenberg and the latter is now the champion, according to the State Boxing Commission.

Tilden Victor Over Richards

Providence, July 15.—Playing unbeatable tennis in the greatest exhibition he has ever given on a Rhode Island court, William T. Tilden 2d, of Philadelphia, national champion, defeated Vincent Richards, of Yonkers, N. Y., national junior champion, by a score of 6—3, 6—1, 6—0, in the final match of the state title series at the Agram Hunt Club this afternoon before the largest gallery of the week.

In his sweeping victory Tilden practically duplicated the triumph achieved by the junior champion in the final match of the singles series last year. From the outset Tilden was in complete command and his booming service, coupled with an irresistible driving attack, completely devastated Richards's game.

Shanghai Plays Fort Mills Again Today At 4.45 p.m.

Odds Favor Locals Despite Three Previous Defeats

With Elliston, a soldier twirler unknown locally, hurling for the Fort Mills nine and with John Scott, at present at his very best form working for the Shanghai nine, Shanghai is confident of breaking into the winning column in the series this afternoon when the two teams clash again. The match commences at 4:45 o'clock.

Fort Mills, working Mumford twice and Farsuch once have beaten Gallop's men three straight games. Mumford has rated his wins on his wonderful twirling. Farsuch was lucky on Sunday with a big wind breaking his hooks six or eight feet across the pan. There will be no wind today; Shanghai is educated up to Mumford's speed, and nothing else should bother.

Kingman will be at first today with both Capt. Hopkins and former Capt. Cy Wilhoit, both first sackers of some sorts themselves, working in the outfield. Maloney, not yet recovered from his leg sprain will probably not get further into the game than a coach line. Holliday will be at third, with Bills and Thatch finishing off the infield.

The game means much to Shanghai today. It means not only a fair chance for an even break on the series with the champions of the Philippines, but also a new lease of confidence for the approaching stiff series with the Meiji University nine which arrived here yesterday and showed as much class or more than the soldiers in their preliminary workout yesterday afternoon.

Meiji opens their play here tomorrow against Ft. Mills commencing at 4:45 o'clock, and take on Gallop's men for the first time on Saturday commencing at 3:30 o'clock. Meiji will play Ft. Mills and Shanghai three games each. Should Shanghai show well against the crack Japanese university nine they will be invited to tour Japan a month hence.

Members of the Baseball Club will not be charged for the big game this afternoon though non members will be asked for one dollar admission to grand stand accommodations.

"Began to think she would never get well."

Our Portrait is of Miss FLORRIE ORGAN, of 100, Clark Street, Ladywood, Birmingham, England, whose father writes:

"My daughter Florrie was suffering with a very bad head covered with Sores and Eruptions, and in fact her mother was afraid to comb her hair. She had been under several doctors, but all to no purpose, so I began to think she would never get well again and lose all her hair. As your 'Clarke's Blood Mixture' cured me of Glandular Swellings in the Neck some years ago, and so averted my having to undergo an operation, I decided to give 'Clarke's Blood Mixture' a fair trial in the case of my daughter, and I am pleased to say it effected a wonderful cure in just over a fortnight."

SUFFERERS from Bad Legs, Abscesses, Ulcers, Glandular Swellings, Boils, Eczema, Boils, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Eruptions, Rheumatism, Gout should realise that lotions and ointments can but give temporary relief; to be sure of complete and lasting benefit the blood must be thoroughly cleansed of the impure waste matter the root cause of such troubles. Clarke's Blood Mixture quickly attacks, overcomes and expels the impurities; that is why so many remarkable recoveries stand to its credit. Pleasant to take, and free from injurious ingredients.

Peking American School Tells Plans For The Year

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, August 11.—The new head of the Peking American School will be Mr. Melsom S. Tuttle, according to the statement given out by Dr. H. J. Howard, Chairman of the Board of Directors. Mr. Tuttle is to be Business Manager as well as Principal. He is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and Columbia University and has been active in education work in America.

The Board of Directors also feel that they have a staff of specialists this year. The following is to make up of the new teaching body:

Miss Mary Nourse, Ph. B., M. A., High School History.

Miss Clara Hays, B. S., M. A., High School English.

Miss Dorothea Ayres, B. A., High School Mathematics and Latin.

Miss Alice F. Moore, 5th and 6th Grades.

Miss Frances Russell, 3rd and 4th Grades.

Miss Naomi Wilson, 2nd Grade.

Miss Mary E. Randall, 1st Grade.

Miss Louise Cates, Kindergarten.

Mme. Antoinette Teng, French Conversation.

Mrs. Primmer, B. A., High School French.

Mr. Pao Tzu Kai, Chinese.

Mr. Lei T'so Chen, Chinese.

ADD NEW ARTS STUDIES

In addition to the course which this staff will give, arrangements have been made with the Peking Institute of Fine Arts for its directors to co-operate with the teaching staff in providing instruction in choral music, drawing and dramatics. It is also hoped that Premedical School of the Peking Union Medical College will admit the pupils of the American School to the regular science courses. Courses in Home Economics and Manual Training are being planned depending upon the number of students registering for them.

In the drive for funds made last spring approximately $120,000 was raised. On the strength of this the new building was authorised. However, to meet the annual budget is somewhat of a worry to the Directors. The budget as estimated for the current year is $28,000 of which only 60% will be covered by the tuition fees. Gifts from individuals and business and other organisations have met the deficit.

TO OPEN SEPTEMBER 11

The tuition fees for the coming year are as follows: Kindergarten per year $80, First and Second Grades per year $100: Third to Sixth Grades per year $130: Junior High School, Seventh, Eighth and Ninth Grades per year $140: and Senior High School, Tenth, Eleventh and Twelfth Grades per year $150. School begins on September 11.

The present Board of Trustees having charge of the holding of the school property and of attending to all matters pertaining to the proper investment and disbursement of permanent funds are: Dr. H. J. Howard, Chairman; F. C. Fette, Vice Chairman; Secretary and Treasurer, F. H. Peterson; Julean Arnold, F. J. Deane, D. W. Edwards, and W. R. Peck.

RAILWAY HEADS LEAVE CAPITAL, PARLEY FUTILE

Government Not To Attempt Any Further Compromise

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, August 14.—The railway executives left Washington today convinced that the strike would continue. It is stated that it is not expected that the Government will attempt any further compromise but the Union leaders remain at Washington for the purpose of continuing their efforts at mediation.

San Francisco, August 14.—The situation on the far western railways as a result of the strike continues to be chaotic. Many trains have been stalled because the strikers refuse to man them. They have consented, however, to move six trains marooned at desert points to less uncomfortable places.

President Harding has telegraphed to the Governor of Arizona offering the assistance of the Federal Government to relieve the hardship of the marooned passengers.

Washington, August 15.—The leaders of the non-striking organisations after conferring with President Harding today announced that they would continue their efforts at mediation in the shopmen's strike.

San Francisco, August 15.—The strike of operatives of the Union Pacific Railway has been called off. Four trains left immediately for the east.

Washington, August 15.—In view of the failure of his efforts at mediation in the railway strike, it is understood that President Harding intends to invite the employers to operate the railways pledging Government backing in their efforts to serve the public. The President proposes shortly to make a comprehensive statement to Congress regarding the situation.

(China Press Service)

Washington, D. C. August 15.—Because the men formerly employed by the Southern Pacific Railway have turned down every proposal made by the directors, the Southern Pacific is now going to combat the strike actively, it was learned here today.

With the labor available, every possible train will be operated, it was announced. The directors made a statement that "the railroad has made every effort to settle the strike even offering terms the men had previously agreed to accept. This was without result."

Los Angles, California, August 15.—The Santa Fe Railroad announced today that all trains stalled in desert towns when the crews deserted would be moving tonight. Trains were left without crews at Needles, California and Las Vegas, Mexico.

Washington, August 15.—Leaders of the railroad organisations not on strike conferred today with President Harding and announced that they would continue their efforts at mediation. Signs of a settlement of the strike, they said, were "hopeful".

Washington, August 15.—Senator William E. Borah, Republican, of Idaho, today declared that the railroad and coal strikes will produce a situation that will sorely try the people's courage and patriotism next winter. Senator Borah, in a brilliant speech, also urged unfavorable action by the Senate on the Bonus bill, which is scheduled to be called up next week.

Assistant Nurse N. H. Parker is permitted to terminate her service on August 31.

Public Works Department.—Mr. F. G. Helsby, Assistant Engineer, is appointed Chief Assistant Engineer from July 11, 1922.

"SCRAPPING" PLANS

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, August 16.—The preliminary navy scrapping program has been announced, whereby various warships will be transferred after the removal of their turrets to different yards for scrapping. After the preparatory operations, which will affect among others the Aki, Satsuma, Katori, Kashima, Kurama and Ikoma, are completed the vessels will wait till the Treaty comes into operation.

Wu Pei-fu Fears Tang Shao-yi's Plan

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 13.—General Wang Chih-hsiang, President Li Yuan-hung's personal envoy to Loyang, is reported to have telegraphed that General Wu Pei-fu heartily favors the substantive appointment of Dr. Wang Chung-hui as Premier.

It is explained that General Wu bears no personal ill-feeling against Mr. Tang Shao-yi but fears that if he became Premier he would exert his influence for the establishment in China of a league of independent provinces as opposed to General Wu's policy of uniting the country under a strong centralised Government.

Princess Wisniewska, Noted Adventuress, Is In Trouble In Spain

(Chung Mei Service)

Paris, July 2[illegible].—Despatches from Madrid brought the news recently that Jeanne Marie, Princess Wisniewska, had been arrested in the Spanish capital on a charge of murder and lodged in jail pending an investigation of her history, officials of the French secret service lifted their eyebrows just a little bit more than usual and murmured:

"La femme fatale! There she is again, the vampire!"

The astounding history of this woman is no mystery to the French police, or for that matter to the police of Switzerland and Italy and Poland and who knows how many other countries where she has played the role of courtesan, spy, blackmailer, grande dame, diplomatic agent, friend of kings and—always—siren.

Born forty years ago in a maternity home in Paris, a child of the gutter, of whose parents nothing is known except that they were Italian, Jeanne Marie Solange, as she was named by the hospital authorities, served her apprenticeship for a life of adventure and intrigue in orphanages, homes for wayward girls and later jails in every department of France.

Then, suddenly, she blossomed out. Flinging into the abyss of forgotten things her name and station, her police record and her underworld acquaintances, she startled the demi-monde of Paris by her fantastic gowns, her entrancing beauty and sparkling wit. She had found a "protector." Luxuriously installed in a mansion in the Avenue du Bois, this girl of twenty—she had come back to the Ville Lumiere about the time of the Exposition of 1900—laughed and sang and danced her way into the hearts and bankrolls of Russian Granddukes, Egyptian princes, Hinde nabobs and the smaller fry French, Spanish, Brazilian and English visitors to the new city.

She became successively the Countess de Moissy, the Countess de Solange, the Countess de Grenier, living, always surrounded by luxury, in the most exclusive quarters of Paris, paying fabulous prices for her apartments, raiment, jewelry and horses. She was an assiduous frequenter of Longchamps and Auteuil and "the season" found always where "Tout Paris" ruled—at Barritz, Deauville, Nice and Monte Carlo, Vichy or Aix-les-Baine.

Naturally she gambled, she was always playing "velvet." It was in the Casino at Monte Carlo that she made the acquaintance of Prince de Wisniewska, an Italian subject of Polish origin. He had millions and was eight-five years old. She was twenty-five. They were married. In a year the husband was dead and the erstwhile gutter snipe was beyond all cavil a Princess and a millionairess.

Princess de Wisniewska disappeared for a year or two from her haunts in France. Vague bits information appeared once in a while about her wanderings in the Orient, in Egypt, Constantinople and St. Petersburg. In 1912 she was in Spain and found a way to ingratiate herself into the exclusive set around the royal summer residence at San Sebastian. By this time she had made diplomacy—the study of international relations—her hobby. Like her prototype Mata Nari, who died at the hands of a firing squad at Vincennes as a spy, the Princess foresaw the conflict of Titans that was coming on and she was rehearsing the role she had picked out for herself.

She was cleverer than Mata Nari. She succeeded in bamboozling the French secret service to such an extent that even when evidence was forthcoming that she was in constant relations by correspondence and messenger with Herr von Trenck, child of the German espionage service in Switzerland, she was merely expelled from France and sent across the frontiers into Italy, of which country she was a citizen by reason of her marriage. In the first months of the war the Princess was in Paris. She published a sumptuous book entitled "Diplomatic Notes," dedicated to King Alfonso of Spain and having as a preface a letter from one of that monarch's ministers.

She travelled frequently. She was reported in Spain, in Switzerland, in Italy, at various towns along the front in France. Finally the French police began to suspect her. She was closely watched. It was learned that her fortune had disappeared. Whether it went by way of the green table or into the pockets of her crooked acquaintances will probably never be known but she was desperately in need of funds. The French secret service gave her a job as a counter spy. She played both ends against the middle. She "unmasked" innocent foreigners who proved later on to be just what they said they were but in the meantime the Princess had collected her "blood money." She sold French information to the Germans and German information to the French. Her "dessier" in the office of the prefect of police is a volume from which a writer of fantastic romances could garner enough for twenty books.

After her expulsion from France in 1917 she dropped out of sight until a month or so ago the news came from Madrid that the Princess Wisniewska had been arrested following the sudden death by poisoning of Evans Sellefeuille, the son of a wealthy lawyer of Montreal, Canada, who had, at her instigation, just taken out an insurance policy for 100,000 pesetas, about $200,000. It was then the princess called at the office of the company to collect the money, two weeks after the policy had been issued, that the police were notified.

Pacific Rate War On; 3 Lines Involved

(China Press Service)

Washington, August 15.—The American Consul-General at Vancouver, British Columbia, has informed the Department of Commerce that "an aggressive steamship rate war" to Oriental points involving the Blue Funnel, the Canadian Pacific and Japanese lines was in progress.

American offices of the Japanese lines are said to admit that "the rate war is on in earnest," while the Canadian Pacific has announced that it will beet all competition.

Lumber rates have already been reduced from $15 to $12 per thousand feet, wheat and flour from $6 to $5 per ton, and general merchandise has been reduced on an average of $2 per ton.

TRIBUTE PAID TO NORTHCLIFFE BY WORLD LEADERS

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 15.—Their Majesties the King and Queen Queen Alexandra, Princess Victoria and the Duke of Connaught have sent messages of condolence to Lady Northcliffe.

The death of Lord Northcliffe evoked very many expressions of grief from home and abroad. Expressions of sympathy flowed in to Lady Northcliffe throughout yesterday, the senders including President Harding, Mr. Hughes and M. Millerand.

Lord Northcliffe's life story is featured in all the morning newspapers which term him a prince of journalists and dwell upon the greatness of his genius, the tremendous power he wielded and his remarkable achievements in transforming the newspaper world.

They pay tribute to his great human qualities. His devotion to Britain and the Empire is emphasised by numerous leader-writers. A wide acknowledgement is made of the beneficent part he played in promoting an Irish settlement.

The Northcliffe organs pay the warmest tributes to him as a man and an employer. The Times says his greatness and genius were beyond question. The Daily Mail says he was a great journalist and a patriot. The Daily Telegraph says he was a great man and a great Englishman.

The Morning Post says his essential bigness was undeniable. The Chronicle terms his death as a poignant human tragedy. The Daily Telegraph says his purpose was to make a better, stronger and happier Empire. The Express says his wholehearted patriotic services to the state were invaluable.

A more critical note is voiced in the Independent Liberal and Labor organs. The Daily News says his genius gathered the greatest congregation ever assembled but that he had nothing to say that mattered. The Daily Herald says his vast influence was used almost consistently for evil on general questions of public policy.

New York, August 15.—President Harding, through the British Embassy, sent a message of condolence to Lady Northcliffe expressing his appreciation of Lord Northcliffe's high qualities exceptional ability, dominant personality and services to mankind.

The newspapers paid a tribute to Lord Northcliffe as one of the greatest figures of modern journalism. They especially praise his endeavors to promote Anglo-American friendship.

Marconi To Open Wireless To China

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 15.—At a meeting of the Marconi Wireless Company today, Signor Marconi said that last year had been an unprecedently difficult one but that this year an improvement was already manifest. There was a profit of £275,000 and there would be a dividend of 10 percent on ordinary shares, while £666,000 would be carried forward to the credit of the profit and loss account.

He declared that the company would shortly participate in the opening of Wireless services to South America and North America and Europe. Similar services would shortly be opened from China and Japan.

Referring to the delay in completing the Empire Wireless chain he said that the consequence might be that British Commerce would be handicapped by slower and dearer communication or its wireless messages must pass through France, Germany or the United States until the British high power stations were ready.

This was lamentable in view of the fact that Britain was the pioneer of long distance wireless. It was a very high price to pay for somebody's indecision.

A Reply To Mr. Lockhart

BY GEORGE MATHESON

(Manager and Founder of The Mission for Ricsha Coolies)

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Sir.—Certain local papers recently informed the public that a strike had taken place among the ricsha coolies. I am in a position to contradict this statement. It is a fact, however, that a serious attempt was made by other parties to create a strike among the ricsha men, and had it succeeded, such a strike, following those already in operation here, might have turned Shanghai into a Bolshevik camp.

In my letter of June 26, I said that taking the ricsha men as a whole, they are found to be peaceable law-abiding men, and that neither in past years nor at the present time have I ever discovered any trace of Bolshevist tendencies.

Mr. Bruce Lockhart, in a letter to THE CHINA PRESS has stated "that the conditions of the Shanghai ricsha man's life—aggravated by a rigorous and almost ruthless Police supervision—invite Bolshevism and justify Bolshevism." This is a very grave allegation to make, and it is entirely unfounded. There is nothing to suggest that these men are drifting into Bolshevism. The "Ricsha Mission" is in close touch with them and its experience of their temper and attitude vis-a-vis the local authorities is quite different. This Mission further exercises a restraining and beneficial influence upon these coolies. Since 1913 close on two millions of men, women and children have received practical instruction in the "Ricsha Mission" halls and in the open air. The far reaching results of the Mission's work can scarcely be overestimated. From 10 to 15 provinces are represented nightly in the Mission halls, the ricsha men coming to the meetings from all the quarters of Shanghai where they dwell—East Gate, and West Gate of the Native City, French Town, Yangtszepoo, etc. In consequence of the spirit which prevails among them, all efforts to bring about a strike have hitherto completely failed, in spite of the example of many other sections of the Chinese working classes.

The letter I refer to says that the ricsha coolies is being mercilessly treated by the Police. The writer would find it difficult to produce any evidence in support of this assertion. It is simply incredible. From the tens of thousands of ricsha men who have attended the "Ricsha Mission" during the last nine and a half years, not one single complaint, individual or collective, of ill treatment by the Police has ever been received. On the other hand these men have again and again expressed their gratitude for the shelters erected by the Council.

The description of the ricsha coolies as ragged, emaciated and starving is a reckless exaggeration. It is notorious that there is a constant fluctuation in the coolie class of Shanghai. Thousands arrive daily and, as might be expected, the new arrivals include a proportion who have been starving. As for the ricsha man's semi nude condition, it is the dress or undress of some 200 millions of his brethren at this time of year. A compulsory Summer uniform would probably be resisted. A warm Winter suit is desirable for them, but in view of their great number and the temporary character of their work, it is hardly possible to provide it. Compared with other coolies the ricsha man is fairly well dressed. People who criticise the treatment of the working class in Shanghai should make themselves familiar with the conditions which prevail in China generally. Shanghai is a haven of refuge in the eyes of all classes of Chinese. Wild attacks on its municipal government are to be deprecated. It is playing into the hands of the friends of anarchy. Mr. Bruce Lockharf will surely reconsider his purpose of sending copies of his letter to the Press of the world, after the exposure of the extraordinary errors in his statistics. Instead of 40 percent of confiscations and 98 percent of suspensions of ricsha licenses during 1921, the correct figures have been shown to be 3.4 percent confiscations and 8.16 percent of suspensions.

With reference to the writer's remarks on "the luxury and solace of tobacco" for the ricsha coolies, and the possibility of increasing their purchasing power in that direction, I know for a fact that only a small percentage of these men are smokers, and are mainly such as work in the vicinity of hotels, clubs, etc. The "Ricsha Mission" periodically warns the coolies of the bad effects of smoking upon the heart, especially for people whose work entails a constant strain upon that organ. I have little doubt that the smoking of cigarettes while working, accounts for the emaciated appearance of some ricsha men, which Mr. Bruce Lockhart has noticed. I have never seen any smoking among the thousands who attend the "Ricsha Mission" meetings, and I have frequently heard them declare that the habit is injurious to them.

At the Mission halls and street shelters, all who are in need are helped with food, clothing, hospital aid, etc., and no ricsha man need ever suffer in Shanghai while the "Ricsha Mission" exists and while charitable people are ready to befriend the class for whom the Mission works. I should like to add that of late years the foreign community generally has shown much sympathetic consideration for the ricsha coolies, and particularly through the instrumentality of the North China Daily News.

The Municipal Council is about to take over the Waterworks and (it may be predicted) the Tramways. I understand that municipal control of the ricsha trade is also being considered. I would suggest that the Council begin with the acquisition of 2,000 ricshas which would bring the number of licenses to 10,000. Considering how the settlements have been extended in recent years, this number would not be in excess of requirements. The Council with its excellent police force and other efficient departments should be able to carry on this business to the satisfaction of the public. This seems to me the best solution of the Ricsha Traffic Problem. It is of course only my personal opinion. I am not expressing the views of any other persons, official or private. I write as a ratepayer and a loyal citizen for many years.

I am, etc.,
George Matheson.

Hotter Sun---Colder Earth; Rain Dries Air, Says Expert

A rainstorm dries the air; more goes up than comes down; as the sun sets the air grows warmer; the hotter the sun grows, the colder the earth becomes; the sun rises before it is up and sets after it is down; these are strong statements and sound like a fairy tale, but they are all true. Dr. W. J. Humphreys, quoted in the annual report of the Smithsonian Institution which has just been made public explains all of them. They are perfectly well known to scientists, if not to laymen.

As everyone knows, Dr. Humphreys declares, water evaporates and is taken up in the air as vapor. This action is continuous all over the earth and the atmosphere would soon become very soggy if it weren't dried out. Rain is the collection, or condensation, and precipitation of these moisture particles, consequently the more it rains the less water there is left in the atmosphere, or the drier the air becomes.

The second of Dr. Humphreys' paradoxes seems flatly to contradict the old saying "whatever goes up must come down." However, as the writer expresses it, vertical circulation in the atmosphere is only gravitational action, consisting of the sinking of relatively cold and therefore dense air, and rising of warm and light air. Contracted air descends, expanded air ascends. Therefore, mass for mass, the volume of ascending air is always larger than that descending. In terms of mass, also, Dr. Humphreys says, descending air is less than ascending, for air while rising contains immense quantities of water in suspension, which does not return to earth with that air, but as rain, hail or snow. The air that rises from the land surface is greater in mass by at least 20,000,000 tons per second, the measure of world precipitation, than that which descends, he says.

The third paradox is merely a way of stating that the warmest part of the day is not at noon, when the sun is at meridian or overhead and should seemingly be pouring down greater heat, but several hours later in the afternoon. That is because the surface of the earth and the lower layers of air continue to absorb more heat from the upper layers for some time after the latter have been receiving the maximum amount of heat radiation from the sun.

While it is not yet universally conceded that the next puzzler, "the hotter the sun, the colder the earth," really is true, Dr. Humphreys states, the evidence in favor of it is already very strong. There are several explanations offered. The first is that increased radiation from the sun causes earth's air currents to flow more rapidly, bring down a great quantity of cooler air from high latitudes to lower. He rejects this explanation, however.

The temperature of the sun itself varies and sun spots are eruptions caused by heat activity. It is shown, he continues, that earth's temperature varies with spot activity; that the more spots there are on the sun the cooler the earth temperature becomes, and vice versa. Also, that the sun's corona, in large measure only so much dust, must interfere with passage of radiation through it. Hence: Hotter sun, more spots; more spots, denser corona; denser corona, less radiation received on the earth and warmer climate ensues.

Another explanation is the heat absorbing quality of ozone, which exists in greater quantity in the upper air. He concludes that the denser corona stops passage of some percent of the ultra violet rays, some of which acting on cold dry oxygen in the upper strata form ozone. In times of maximum spots there must, then, be less ozone. But ozone absorbs a great amount of earth radiation, therefore if the earth should be receiving an increased amount of heat at this time it might nevertheless grow colder because of the coincident depletion of the heat-conserving ozone blanket. It is also said that cirrus cloud or cirrus haze is more generally prevalent in earth's atmosphere during spot activity and this blanket of cloud shuts out some of the solar radiation.

The reverse paradox, then, which is also found to be true, may be accounted for in the same way. Sun's atmosphere is clearer during spot minimum, and although there may actually be less heat coming from the sun a larger percentage is allowed to reach through the thinner blankets.

The paradox of the sun rising before it is actually up and setting after it has actually gone down is explained by the sending of light waves when passing through the air. A stick when placed in clear water seems to bend; a light ray when sent through the air does actually bend. The rays from the rising sun are bent when they strike the air envelope. This angle varies according to well-known laws, but on the average the light from the sun is bent thirty-four and one-half seconds of degree, so that the upper limb of the sun when first seen is actually half a degree below the horizon. As the angular diameter of either sun, moon or star is less than this fraction it follows that when the sky is sufficiently clear the whole of either may be seen before even its topmost portion is geometrically above the horizon.

While the reverse is not absolutely correct astronomically, it is added, when sun, star or moon set, because of the slight modification of refraction due to earth rotation, nevertheless the difference is exceedingly slight. Consequently, as the light rays are bent upward by earth's atmosphere the sun has actually gone down before it is seen by a terrestrial observer.

Bath In Moscow Expensive; Costs 3,000,000 Rubles

That's Only 75 Cents In U. S. Money, But It's More Than In Other Capitals

BY ANNA LOUISE STRONG

Moscow, July 6.—I have just paid three million rubles for a bath. Cleanliness comes high in Moscow. Everything else does, too; everything costs regular New York prices and then some.

After all, three million rubles is only seventy-five cents, not too much to pay in America. But I have been spoiled by my year in Europe. Everything in Germany is cheap as dirt, if you know the language and where to buy. Moscow is the most expensive capital in Europe.

It is expensive even for foreigners with good American dollars. We folks have been accustomed since the war to exchanging our good money for a lot of paper money in Germany, or Austria, or Italy, and just buy up the country. Russia isn't going to let us do it. There are quite a lot of old New Yorkers who have got into the Government of Russia, and they don't intend to be held up by anyone! They intend to do the holding up!

I told a commissar at Minsk how cheap everything was in Germany in comparison with Russia, and he replied dryly: "But that is just selling Germany away. Germany has to on account of the reparations. But we do not have to sell out Russia."

Russia tried first to offer communism to the world—a system in which everyone would work hard and be given free of charge whatever he needed. She couldn't make her industries run on that basis. Partly this can be blamed on the war, the blockade and the famine, and partly, as the communists themselves say:

"Because there were not enough honest people in Russia—not enough people who would refuse to accept from society more than they returned. We must train up the next generation."

"STATE CAPITALISM"

So Russia has now retreated to what she calls "state capitalism." Everyone is free to go out and make money, to produce goods and sell them, to charge as much as they can and make any fortunes they can pile up. But let no one believe that this is capitalism as we have it in America for the Government itself is out in industry, competing in every line.

The Government runs the key industries and the biggest factories all over Russia; it runs them to make money. It sells the product for the market price and pays the workers according to what they produce. It intends to make all the money it can, to build up its surplus and to use that surplus for developing Russia. The Government hopes to develop Russia toward communism; that depends on what happens in the rest of the world. As long as the rest of the world is on a capitalistic basis, and money is the standard in foreign trade, Russia intends to have money and pay her own way.

Meantime she keeps up a running fight with the speculators. The speculators had the best of it during the Winter, for the Government's resources were drained to fight the famine. The speculators hoarded grain in hope of a rise; they speculated wildly in rubles, which sank every few days to half their previous value. Everything was tumbling.

ADVERTISES BREAD LOAN

Then suddenly, observing the chance of a good harvest, the Government advertised a ten-million-dollar bread loan, selling at a low price flour to be delivered next Winter. It suddenly made the paper ruble good, since you could pay paper rubles for food seven months ahead; it cut the price of flour and forced the speculators to unload. The bread loan shows every sign of being oversubscribed, which is quite a mark of confidence of the people in the financial power of the Government.

But how can the Russians themselves pay the high prices charged for everything? Germany has to keep her railroads bankrupt, because if she charged enough to run them the Germans could not afford to ride. All countries whose money is worth little in the world market have this problem.

But Russia can dare do things which the other countries cannot, because all her essential workers are on Government rations and have practically free lodgings and free transportation when on public business. They should worry about rising prices. Let foreigners and speculators make money and pay money; there is another and a safer standard in Russia, along with this money standard.

Plan To Colonise Jews Of Europe In Mexico

El Paso, Texas, July 6.—A gigantic colonisation plan, which would make the Mennonite movement of 20,000 people almost insignificant in comparison, is being formulated in Mexico.

If carried to completion the plan will give homes to millions of suffering Russian and Polish Jews.

It is proposed to colonise the persecuted Jews of Europe on vast tracts of land on Mexico.

Sixty-four thousand square miles of territory, chiefly along the Mexican border, is to be utilised for the colonisation, according to the plan.

Advices received here from President Obregon of Mexico state that he is considering the proposal to give these Jewish immigrants the land required.

From New York come reports that Paul W. Rothinberg, a prominent Jewish leader, is heading a Jewish territorial organisation which would hold title to the land to be granted to the Jews by the Mexican government. Rabbi Martin Zielonka, of Temple Mount Sinai, in this city, recently gave an interview to a Jewish magazine while in Cincinnati, Ohio, at the American College of Rabbis, outlining the colonisation plans.

For a long time there has been a movement on foot in Mexico to take care of Jews stranded in that country. Efforts were made to permit the Jews to enter the United States, but it was found that foreign Jews in Mexico would have to remain there a year before they could cross the boundary legally.

Last Summer Dr. Zielonka went to Mexico to organise relief committees, schools and employment agencies, under the auspices of the American Reform Rabbis, to aid stranded Jews there. Soon afterward plans were talked of for the colonisation of Jews in Mexico and millions of others in Europe.

Mexican Consul-General Luis Montes de Osa, of El Paso, stated Jewish colonisation plans had been on foot a long time, but that he had not been definitely informed in regard to the project to secure 64,000 square miles of land for them along the border.

"To grant land next to the border would be a violation of Article Twenty-seven of the Constitution," the Consul said.

"This provides that foreigners shall not hold land within eighty miles of the border, yet there have been exceptions to the rule."

Over 1,600 of the Mennonites of Canada already have colonised in Mexico. Thousands more will settle on their lands there before the Summer is over. Leaders of ten Indian tribes in Oklahoma are known to be seeking colonisation lands for about 10,000 Indians where they can fish and hunt. No scheme, however, can approach in magnitude that which would bring to that country the suffering millions of Europe.

"Just You Watch My Dust!"

BY DR. CHARLES FLEISCHER

"Just you watch my dust!" That's what Sergeant Gustav Reisig, of the Quartermaster's Corps at Camp Dix, N. J., is reported to have said when he received a $33,000 check and an agreement of a return of thirty-three cents from every barrel of oil taken out of his land in Oklahoma.

Easy come, easy go. The young soldier five years ago won in a "crap" game the deed to several Oklahoma acres of what is now proving valuable oil land.

His buddies at Camp Dix promptly dubbed him "John D." But the original Rockefeller could never have been guilty of such thriftless sentiments as this spurious namesake flung to his fellow soldiers when he started off on a furlough to get acquainted with his oil-and-gold supply:

"Just paint a picture of me sitting at ease with all the comforts money can buy, and you won't be far wrong. These thirty thousand berries are only a beginning. I am going to blow the works and look for more where that came from. Just you watch my dust!"

No need to watch. This human world of ours, young as it is, is old enough to know in advance what will happen. Anyone who raises dust in that fashion is more than likely to be choked by his own dust.

Spendthriftiness is relatively the joy of a moment, whereas real thriftiness is both happy in the process and blessed in its results.

Some mild cynic has said of life that it is only the first hundred years that is hard. The one and only oil king has assured the rest of us poor folk that, whereas the saving of the first dollar may be quite a stunt, after the first thousand a fortune is easy.

Be that as it may, it is only incidentally suggested here because of the silly blatancy of this latest and misnamed "John D."

As a wholesome contrast for his spendthrift exuberance we would rather pass on to the reader a bit of practical preachment on saving of which Rudyard Kipling lately delivered himself.

Says Kipling, who is used to sermonising in the lest-we-forget strain: "Savings represent much more than their mere money value. They are proof that the saver is worth something in himself.

"Any fool can waste, any fool can muddle; but it takes something of a man to save, and the more he saves the more of a man does it make of him.

"Waste and extravagance unsettle a man's mind for every crime; thrift, which means some form of self-restraint and continence, steadies it."

The mere material advantage of saving money so you may have it when you need it, that needs no argument at all.

But it is well to realise the moral gain in self-government and self-respect derived from such management of money as makes it the servant of a life lived with vision and purpose.

All the difference in the world between letting your money have you and your having it.

Soviets Have Big Electrification Plan

(Russia News Agency)

Moscow, July 31.—A scheme drafted by the Chief Electrical Commission provides for the formation of the following State Trusts in the electrical supplies industry:

1. The Central Region Electrical Trust.
2. The Northern Electrical Trust.
3. The Trust "Electrosvyaz."
4. The Accumulator Trust.

The estimated output of these Trusts (to which working credits will be assigned) for the coming year is valued (on a pre-war scale of values) at about 13,000,000 gold roubles, which is thirty-one percent of the output for 1914.

The following table shows the estimates for the separate Trusts:

	Output in gold roubles	Percentage of 1914 output
Central region trust	7,753,000	48.7
Northern region trust and accumulator trust	3,444,000	19.0
The "Electrosvyaz" trust	1,824,000	24.7
Total	13,021,000	3.16

The expenditure of all the Trusts is estimated at 4,855,000 roubles (in pre-war values).

Exchange Fluctuations

Asia Banking Corporation

August 16, 1922

Spot Bar Silver was up ⅛d and Forward ⅜d in London yesterday.

The New York price advanced to 69-⅜ cents and London-New York cross rate to 446-½.

The only change in our Official Quotations here was a rise in the Franc rate to 940.

The Marks here today was very much along yesterday's lines, opening steady and becoming firm during the course of the morning.

At one time business in Sterling was done at 3-5 3-8 for August deliveries and 3-5 7-16 for Forward.

Gold Dollars were done as low as 77 for August deliveries and 77⅛ for Forward.

However the market steadied up after this and closed firm with sellers of Sterling at 35⅝ for Forward deliveries and Gold Dollars at 77⅛.

There were, however, buyers at these rates for this month's delivery but not for Forward.

The market on the whole was quiet throughout the day although speculators at most times were good sellers. There were very few bills offering today, banks were quoting 3-6 3-8 for Sterling bills, 79 for Gold Dollar Bills and 935 for Franc bills.

China bought silver in London yesterday and the market was reported to have closed steady with buyers satisfied.

New York advised that there were small sellers and no buyers at the official quotations in their market.
